Dear Friends of the Yuen Campus,

The Yuen Campus team has planned a very special fall program for our Asia audience titled the “U.S. Presidential Election Series”. The series will introduce the intricacies of U.S. democracy and our election system leading up to the 2020 Presidential election.

During the series, Professor William Howell, Chair of the University of Chicago Political Science Department and co-author Terry M. Moe will share insights from their recently published book, “Presidents, Populism and the Crisis of Democracy”.

In addition, other experts will discuss the current state of the 2020 election and how U.S. and China tensions will be impacted by the election result. Finally, just days before Americans cast their votes, Professors Howell and Moe will guide a discussion for how we can save U.S. democracy for future generations.

Check out the “U.S. Presidential Election Series” HERE and join us for a fascinating discussion.

With best regards,

Mark Barnekow (MBA '88)

The Most Historic U.S. Election in a Generation (Sept. 10)

To prepare the audience for “the most historic U.S. election in a generation”, Professor William G. Howell will provide an overview of the US democratic system including what each political party stands for, how primaries work, the Electoral College versus the popular vote and its influence in deciding who becomes President of the United States. Professor Howell will touch on many other aspects of the U.S. democratic system during this classic UChicago classroom lecture. He will take audience questions to help explain red, blue and purple states, as well as how debates influence voters and anything else on your mind regarding the 2020 presidential election.

Join Professor William G. Howell for a discussion with reference to his book co-authored with Professor Terry M. Moe, “Presidents, Populism, And The Crisis of Democracy”, Thursday, September 10th at 8:30pm Hong Kong Time.

September 10, 2020 (Thursday)
7:30am | Chicago
1:30pm | London
6:00pm | Delhi
8:30pm | Hong Kong . Beijing
