Burning the House Down – A 2020 Election Eve-Reality Check (Oct 29)

In the upcoming session 'Burning the House Down – A 2020 Election Eve-Reality Check', Professors William Howell of the University of Chicago and Terry M. Moe of Stanford University will discuss their new book, 'Presidents, Populism and the Crisis of Democracy' which will focus on what needs to happen in America if democracy is to be preserved. They will not only discuss the need for the U.S. to accept the crisis for what it is, they'll also delve into how it came about and what its current trajectory is likely to be. Professors Howell and Moe will explore what can be done to diffuse the populist threat through targeted reforms and policies. Will Donald Trump and populism continue to threaten democracy if elected in 2020? Or, will Joe Biden bring normalcy back to the presidency and keep our democratic house from burning to the ground?

Join Professors Howell and Moe on October 29 (Thursday) at 8:30pm Hong Kong Time for the last session of U.S. Presidential Election.

Hong Kong Impressions: Re-imagine Our City through Art and Stories (Oct 24)

Once known as the 'Riviera of the Orient,' Hong Kong's natural scenery inspired generations of artists. Trekking to rural areas without the modern convenience of subways and mass transit, artists of yesteryear also contributed to the rise of local tourism with their unconventional perspectives on various sites.

Join the Yuen Campus Executive Director, Mark Barnekow and UChicago alumnus and current Director of The Chinese University of Hong Kong Art Museum, Professor Josh Yiu to look at incredible paintings of Hong Kong by both renowned and forgotten artists, and check out their Instagram-worthy hideouts.
