Economic Dynamics of The Greater Bay Area

In 2017, strategic planning for cooperation between Guangdong, Hong Kong, and Macao established a blueprint for further development of the Greater Bay Area. The framework aims to leverage regional resources and system integration with a visionary goal to nurture the GBA as a world-class competitive city cluster.

From mobility, the economic size of the GBA, infrastructure development, technological innovation to talent flow within the region, this session will introduce what GBA means to society, enterprises, and individuals from a macro socioeconomic and institutional perspective.
