Introduction

Foreword from Faculty Director

In academic year 2023-24, the Hong Kong Jockey Club University of Chicago Academic Complex | The University of Chicago Francis and Rose Yuen Campus in Hong Kong continued to play a vital role in Asia. We have supported nine faculty for the Provost's Global Faculty Awards this year. An increasing number of faculty members came to the campus in Hong Kong to conduct their research in the region, host public lectures and symposiums with partners and faculty, and collaborate with universities throughout Asia. The activities have deepened UChicago's academic achievements and presence in Hong Kong and Asia.

During the year, the campus in Hong Kong increasingly acquired audiences globally through online webinars. The topics covered included ChatGPT on investment decision-making, bias in the luxury real estate market, China real estate changes, Chinese literature, and the UChicago faculty's timely discussion of the Fukushima wastewater issue. This showcases the diverse research conducted at UChicago and inspires the audience with different perspectives to the world's pressing problems.

We also worked on the heritage yearly rotating exhibition to support the local community. This year, the story of Hong Kong Tramways provided robust content for the exhibition. We look forward to more scholars and the public visiting the exhibition to learn more about UChicago's research regarding the tram.

Faculty Director
Kenneth Pomeranz

Foreword from Executive Director

This year, the 5th year anniversary of the campus in Hong Kong marked our return to regular operation since before the pandemic. In addition to the Chicago Booth EMBA program, we welcomed more in-person Executive Education and Rustandy social innovation programs taught on campus.

We extended our relationship with the U.S. Consulate in Hong Kong and Macau, inviting Brent Neiman from the U.S. Department of Treasury, and Nicholas Burns, the U.S. Ambassador to the People's Republic of China, to have exclusive talks with our students, faculty, and alumni.

During the summer, the rotating exhibition launched in late 2022, "Hong Kong Memories: Miniatures & Photographs of Old Hong Kong Streetscape," won two gold prizes at the Marketing Events Awards. The new exhibition featuring Hong Kong's most sustainable transportation, "Tram Tales: 120 Years of Hong Kong Tramways," has brought a record number of visitors to the campus' Heritage Interpretation Centre.

We assisted with many events and objectives for multiple University of Chicago offices like Career Advancement, the Committee on International Relations, and Alumni Relations and Development. We supported faculty to expand their work and collaboration in the region. Public talks about game design and Sanxingdui were hosted on campus. We further expanded the podcast "The Course" to a second season. Last but not least, an inaugural high school Data Science Summer Academy has launched for the upcoming summer. This will open the campus to a broader audience.

In the next academic year, we will strive to run even more diverse and inclusive educational programs to fulfill our academic mission.

Facility & Location

Built on a historically important site at Mount Davis, the UChicago campus in Hong Kong restored the historical features of the site, including The Hong Kong Jockey Club University of Chicago Heritage Campus, where tours and exhibitions highlighting the history of the site are available to the public.

As part of the revitalization process, exterior heritage elements on the site such as the previously unused battery gun emplacement and ancillary structures have been made accessible to visitors, while the heritage trails on the Hong Kong campus were made to connect with the public hiking trail on Mount Davis. With the campus' open design, the public has access to heritage trails and is welcome to visit the open grounds area.

The campus in Hong Kong is about 53,000 sq. ft., with the new building accounting for about 44,000 sq. ft. In addition to the 15 group study rooms and the student lounge, there is a multi-purpose hall on the ground floor where the panels, conference, and events take place. The building includes a reading room and two classroom auditoriums for academic meetings and classes.

The Hong Kong Jockey Club University of Chicago Heritage Courtyard and Interpretation Centre

The campus in Hong Kong is built on a historically important site at Mount Davis, which at different times served as part of Hong Kong's western coastal defense system, makeshift housing for refugees, a British Army Royal Engineers' mess and quarters, a detention center, and a police training facility. The campus' design pays homage to the site's history and former occupants by creating the Heritage Interpretation Centre, and by preserving and highlighting significant architectural elements throughout the site. The design combines modern functionality with preservation, featuring adaptive reuse of the existing heritage buildings on the site and making the heritage sites and their history accessible to the Hong Kong community.

The Campus resumed public visits and guided tours of the Heritage Interpretation Centre in 2022. Five guided tours per week in Cantonese and English are provided to the public and various communities upon request. The total number of visitors to the Heritage Interpretation Centre in FY23-24 increased by 32.5% compared to FY22-23. The rotating exhibition launched on December 10, 2022, "Hong Kong Memories: Miniatures & Photographs of Old Hong Kong Streetscapes" was well-received by the local community and helped to increase the number and frequency of visitors to the Heritage Interpretation Centre.

Building academic collaborations

Social Studies of Medicine Writing and Publishing Workshop in Asia

Funded by the Provost's Global Faculty Award (PGFA), the key aim of this in-person workshop is to build the writing and publishing capacity of early-career scholars (ECS) based at institutions in Asia who are working in the fields of social studies of medicine (particularly medical anthropology, medical sociology, medical history, and STS) and are interested in publishing in English-language journals. Professor Zhiying Ma from the Crown Family School of Social Work, Policy, and Practice collaborated with Professor Junko Kitanaka from Keio University and invited five editors and fourteen early-career scholars from the US, Japan, Taiwan, Singapore, India, South Korea, mainland China, and Hong Kong for the 3-day workshop hosted at the UChicago campus in Hong Kong on January 18-20, 2024. The group also visited the Department of Psychiatry of the University of Hong Kong at the Queen Mary Hospital to exchange and explore future collaboration opportunities.

Committee on International Relations (CIR)

With the logistical and on-ground support from the team at the campus in Hong Kong, the Committee on International Relations (CIR) returned to Taiwan for their global seminar for the second time on March 4-13, 2024. The effort brought 16 faculty members and students to meet with over 40 experts and scholars across 15 institutions and organizations relevant to the group's research topics. CIR also met with 17 alumni at an alumni gathering in Taipei, which was co-organized with Alumni Relations and Development.

The Mysteries of Sanxingdui: Reflections on the Hong Kong Palace Museum Exhibition

Reflecting on the intriguing exhibition of the new archaeological discoveries at Sanxingdui by the Hong Kong Palace Museum, the UChicago campus in Hong Kong has worked with Professor Edward Shaughnessy from the Department of East Asian Languages and Civilizations and invited a panel of experts from the Hong Kong Palace Museum, Hong Kong Baptist University, and the Chinese University of Hong Kong to share their findings from the Sanxingdui discoveries and discuss the cultural and historical significance of Sanxingdui. This was a hybrid event with 76 in-person and more than 200 online attendees.

Public Faculty Lectures

The UChicago campus in Hong Kong continued to work with our faculty to offer online and hybrid talks to the general public in Hong Kong, mainland China, and Asia, including Professors Maximilian Muhn (Booth School of Business), Matthew Jesse Jackson (Art History), Robert Rosner (Astronomy & Astrophysics), Patrick Jagoda (Humanities), and Kenneth Pomeranz (History & Faculty Director). More than 500 in-person and 2,000 online attendees joined our programs in 2023-2024. The campus successfully acquired a substantial amount of non-UChicago affiliated attendees, taking up 78% of total attendees.

Alumni & public engagement

Heritage Rotating Exhibition

The Heritage Courtyard and Interpretation Centre of the campus in Hong Kong organized a yearly rotating exhibition to fulfill its educational mission. The campus partnered with the Hong Kong Tramways and the Hong Kong Trams Culture Preservation Society to commemorate this important and historic milestone for Hong Kong transportation. Multiple valuable tram parts and historical items were curated to display in the exhibition for the first time. Professor Kenneth Pomeranz conducted in-depth research on the historical development of the Hong Kong Tramways and composed seven-chapter stories for the exhibition. A follow-up talk named “The Webs Beneath the Tracks: Digging Up the History of the Hong Kong Tramways” provided further information to the audience about the exhibition.

Professor Sunny Choi from Hong Kong Polytechnic University was invited to share her research on the sustainability of the Hong Kong Tramway with the public on the opening day in November 2023. The exhibition attracted various local community members to visit and earned multiple media mentions. The number of group visitors increased by 199% compared to the previous award-winning exhibition “Hong Kong Memories: Miniatures & Photographs of Old Hong Kong Streetscapes”.

Joint Celebration of UChicagoHK and Chicago Booth anniversaries

Riding on the 125th anniversary of the Chicago Booth School of Business, the campus in Hong Kong co-organized an event with the Booth team to celebrate the 5th anniversary of the campus. The event highlighted the school’s intellectual spirit and reputation, as well as gathered a local community of alumni and friends together in person. The celebration offered a day of lifelong learning. In addition to Booth faculty talks on leadership and the future labor force, University faculty Robert Rosner and Boaz Keysar presented their research on “What Might The Carbon Free Energy Mix Look Like?”, and “How We Make Decisions in A Second Language”. The event also acknowledged the 10th anniversary of the Rustandy Center for Social Sector Innovation.

Trailblazer Forum

The campus team worked with the U. S. Consulate seamlessly to bring Deputy Under Secretary for International Finance at the U.S. Department of the Treasury Brent Neiman to the Hong Kong campus on September 15, 2023. Brent Neiman shared his view on the challenges and opportunities in global economic diplomacy with alumni. The event was a closed-door session, which provided the exclusive opportunity for alumni to connect with and hear from the top U.S. governor.

“The Course” Podcast

“The Course” is an original podcast that records personal conversations with UChicago professors on their career journeys to becoming a professor. It aims to be informative and a career resource and inspiration for students and individuals thinking of pursuing an intellectual journey. It is also a channel for listeners to learn more about UChicago professors outside of lecture halls.

The podcast launched in May 2022 and has reached 125 episodes to date (June 30, 2024) with approximately 50 hours of content and featuring 125 professors across all the divisions and schools within the University. Currently, during Season 2, the podcast has close to 450 followers and over 20,000 listens. The podcast engages both UChicago and non-UChicago communities across the globe.

U.S.-China Bilateral Relations

Nicholas Burns, the United States Ambassador to the People’s Republic of China, visited the campus in Hong Kong and discussed U.S.-China bilateral relations and answered questions from our faculty and EMBA students on March 11, 2024. UChicago faculty Luis Garicano, Liang Tengyuan, Ming Xiang, and Alan Yu, as well as more than 60 EMBA students and 10 HKU students joined the event and had an insightful discussion with Ambassador Burns.

Alumni Weekend Celebration in Hong Kong

On May 31, the UChicago Alumni Club of Hong Kong and Alumni Relations & Development will host the Alumni Weekend Celebration in Hong Kong at the campus in Hong Kong. Alumni are welcome to dance, play, mingle, and make new UChicago friends. There will be surprises for class years ending in 4 and 9, or the 1st Reunion of the Class of 2023!

Local partnership

Professor Wu Hung’s public lecture series

The campus in Hong Kong collaborated with the Hong Kong University of Science and Technology to invite UChicago professor Wu Hung to come to Hong Kong for a public lecture series with funding from the U.S. Consulate. The series was named “The Global Impact of Research in Chinese Art” and included four public lectures. This collaboration allowed Professor Wu Hung to visit the City University of Hong Kong, M Plus Museum, and Asia Society Hong Kong, as he gave lectures in the University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong Palace Museum, and Hong Kong University of Science and Technology. It enhanced awareness of the UChicago faculty's achievement in the arts and the publicity of the campus in Hong Kong. The lectures also provided a bridge to help UChicago to have deeper connections with universities and institutions in Hong Kong.

Strategic projects

L.C.K. Yung Global Studies Summer Fellowship in Hong Kong

Led by the Global Studies Program at the University of Chicago, Professor Kimberly Kay Hoang and Dr. Caterina Fugazzola launched an inter-institutional and interdisciplinary research program with the University of Hong Kong. 11 UChicago college students will work directly on faculty-led projects to explore various topics in Hong Kong. The campus in Hong Kong will provide administrative and on-the-ground support to this two-month-long fellowship program.
