

Bob Oros

Former Chairman & CEO, Hightower Advisors

Bob Oros is an experienced CEO and thought leader in the financial services industry, currently serving as the Chairman and CEO of Hightower Advisors. With a proven track record of delivering strong performance, Bob has a unique leadership style focused on investing in top-tier talent to drive sustainable growth. His approach centers on cultivating satisfaction among both clients and associates, creating a thriving environment for long-term success.

Throughout his career, Bob has demonstrated an ability to lead and innovate across various sectors within the financial services industry. Before joining Hightower Advisors, Bob was the CEO of HD Vest Financial Services, where he played a key role in transitioning the firm and providing strategic insights. His past leadership roles include being the Executive Vice President at Fidelity Investments, the National Sales Manager at Trust Company of America, and various senior positions at Charles Schwab.

In addition to his work at Hightower Advisors, Bob is a partner at Reklis Brewing Company, where he helped establish a popular craft brewery in New Hampshire. His entrepreneurial spirit also extends to his contributions to financial publications, including articles in Registered Rep Magazine on topics such as scaling practices and building trust with technology.